Mansions are built of brick and stone
And many men do blunder;
But as for me I'll build a HOME
Of good old, honest LUMBER.

The "lumber-jack," with saw and axe,
Will fell a giant forest tree;
The saw-mill, cutting it in stacks
Of lumber—for a home for me!

The architect and building men,

Will work a miracle again,
And turn a tree into a HOME.

ONTARIO MARKET NOW OPEN FOR ALBERTA COAL

OTTAWA, March 17—Alberta coal is to be moved to Ontario in a further test movement at a trial rate of $6.75 per ton. This temporary order-in-council passed Friday and is to be effective for not less than three months in each of the next three years.

The purpose of extending the test for a period of three years is in order that the Board of Railway Commissioners may have conclusive evidence of costs before them to give judgement.

An investigation is to be made by the Board of Railway Commissioners of the working of the rate to ascertain the actual cost to the railways, of moving Alberta coal. A vote will be placed in the estimates of the department of mines to cover disbursements which might accrue to the railways in the interim.

The three months period in which the coal movement is to take place is not specified in the order-in-council. The railways and the coal operators will determine during what months the movement will take place. It is stated that the intention is to move coal under the reduced rate when cars are available.

The question of how the new rate will be applied with respect to points in Ontario is not quite clear. Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of the interior, stated Friday night that the $6.75 rate would apply to Toronto and probably to places of similar mileage. The order-in-council specifically states that the rate is applicable to "Ontario." The whole movement is to be under the jurisdiction of the Board of Railway Commissioners, and this point may be left under the direction of the Board.

"With a rate of $6.75 a ton, I would say that local dealers could handle Alberta coal at about $13 a ton. American anthracite is $15.25 per ton," said J. Herbert Milnes of the Milnes Coal Company.

SHOWER GIVEN IN HONOR OF MRS. W. B. ELLIOTT

The home of Mrs. A. Hay was the scene of a miscellaneous shower last Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. W. B. Elliott, when about thirty women of the town gathered together and presented the bride with many useful and beautiful gifts. The invited guests present were: Mesdames: Malton, Willson, Wright, L. Poxon, McQuade, Bruels, C. H. Nash, R. Nash, Edwards, McKibbin, Fairbairn, Torrance, A. Shaw, Greenan, Leitch, Rouleau, G. Peters, C. Moorehouse, MacDonald, J. Ramsay, Laing, H. Elliott, Knisely, M. Smith, C. Hay, and the Misses Belle Smith and Nellie Hay.

MASONIC AT HOME WAS WELL ATTENDED AFFAIR

A large number of invited guests gathered in the Farmers' Exchange hall last Thursday night on the occasion of the Fourth Annual At Home of the Masonic Lodge, over 200 being present to take in the big event. This social function is the biggest of its kind each season and this year the guests were favored with many musical numbers. A singer, Mr. Henderson of Calgary was engaged for the evening and he rendered many songs of various descriptions. Solos were sung by some of the local ladies, including Mrs. Torrance and Mrs. Church, and a piano duet was played by Mrs. A. F. McKibbin and her sister, Miss Watkins. All of these items were greatly appreciated and received their due applause. Splendid music was furnished by Mrs. Trainor's 4-piece orchestra, of Calgary, and at midnight a sumptuous repast was served by the Lodge members. Dancing was the vogue of the evening and it was not until long after the wee small hours of the morning had made their appearance, that the crowd began to diminish and seek their respective homes.

ASSURED HERE

Tony McKinley, Sec. Treas. of the Alberta Elks Association, who is in Carbon, says that the formation of a branch here is now assured, the supplies are ordered from the National Secretaries office in Winnipeg, and that the date of the Institution will be announced next week. He says that in three years he has never started work in any town without being ultimately successful. This success he attributes to the spirit of the people of the west, the great majority of whom are desirous of getting together for a common and unselfish purpose. Some places, he says, the people are a little harder to move, a little more cliquey and not quite so ready to extend the hand of fellowship and service, as the hand of business.

The farmer often complains that Mr. Business man thinks and acts only in terms of dollars and cents. Mr. Farmer sometimes takes a narrow view and complains that the business man is just farming the farmer. Of course he would rather live near a good town than a flag station.

Now just get these two men together in the spirit of play and community service in the Elk organization and see what will happen. They will discover that they have so many common human interests that they enjoy each others company, and that it is easy for them to unite not only for their own enjoyment, but to provide entertainment for the women and kiddies and to render service to all the community.

The Initiation is nothing to be feared. There is no horseplay. Any person who has signed up and paid his fee will be put on the Charter even though he cannot attend the first meeting. The fee is $20 for charter members and is raised after the date of Institution.

The Elk Order clashes with no other Order and is staunchly supported by men high in the councils of other Fraternities.

It is the playground of Fraternalism.

The foundation of Elkdom was laid in patriotism; its superstructure in service.

Canadians Are Busy

During the years that have elapsed since the war, unemployment conditions in Great Britain have been the subject of much discussion, and in no country has greater attention been paid to them than in the United States. Scores of writers across the line have professed to see in the British situation, with its large army of the unemployed, the dole system, and the great strikes and general industrial upheaval and labor unrest, the beginning of the end for Great Britain in its world leadership in finance, manufacturing, shipping and commerce.

But the Old Land has weathered the many severe storms with remarkable success, has steadily increased employment, re-established its great industries on a peace-time basis, balanced its budget, and is paying off its huge national debt. Its position at home and abroad continues to improve from year to year.

Canada, too, had a hard struggle in the years immediately following the war, though nothing like what Great Britain experienced. Nevertheless, for a number of years business in Canada was depressed and there was a considerable volume of unemployed. At the same time business conditions in the United States were brisk, employment plentiful, production was proceeding at top speed, wages were high, and the whole world was paying financial tribute to it as an outcome of the war. As a result thousands of Canadians emigrated to the States, and throughout this Dominion some sharp contrasts were drawn between conditions here and to the south, always to the disadvantage of Canada.

Within the last year or two a marked change has taken place, and today there is more unemployment in the United States both in the aggregate and in proportion to population than there is in either Canada or Great Britain. In fact, the situation in the United States is becoming so serious as to call for most serious consideration by Congress and the various State Governments.

The Department of Labor at Washington estimates there are four million people out of work at present, and the Industrial Commissioner of New York reports 500,000 out of work in that State alone. Conditions of employment in New York State are officially stated to be the worst since 1921, while Senator Copeland declares there are more people out of work in New York City than at any time since 1914.

Contrasting the United States with Great Britain, it is seen that New York State alone has half as many unemployed as the United Kingdom despite the fact that the latter has four times the population. Or taking the whole United States with two and one-half times the population of the United Kingdom, it is seen there is four times the number of unemployed in the States than there are in Great Britain.

While unemployment has been increasing in the United States in recent years until it has now reached a point where the National City Bank of New York reports 500,000 out of work in that State alone. Conditions of employment in New York State are officially stated to be the worst since 1921, while Senator Copeland declares there are more people out of work in New York City than at any time since 1914.

Of this year are still higher than for the corresponding months a year ago. Prospects for a continuance of this satisfactory condition are of the brightest.

It seems to make no difference what branch of Canadian activity is analysed, general improvement is to be noted. The trade of the Dominion is expanding year by year, and in this connection the gratifying fact is noted that the increase in imports is largely accounted for by commodities not indigenous to Canada and were imported for use in Canadian industry. In building construction the value of contracts awarded has risen from $276,990,000 in 1921 to $298,000,000 in 1925, to $372,000,000 in 1926, and to $419,000,000 in 1927.

The steel industry, which has suffered in recent years, reports a 45 per cent. increase in production for January this year as compared with a year ago. Car loadings on the railways were 22,000 greater than a year ago. Bank clearings for the same month increased by $125,000,000 over January, 1927. The total volume of Canadian business in January this year was the highest for any January in the history of the country. Employment for January was 99.5 and for February 100.5 as compared with the basic figure of 100 set for the year 1920, when employment figures were first tabulated in this country, and before the after-the-war depression set in.

Yes, Canada is busy and promises to become increasingly so throughout 1928.

Reduce the Acid

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Abundant kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

A Busy Season Ahead

Work For Thousands Of Men On Railway Building In Western Canada

Work for thousands of men in Western Canada and payrolls running into millions of dollars are indicated in the western building and expansion programme of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the 1928 season, according to D. C. Coleman, vice-president of Western Lines. Tenders are already out for some of the work, including new stations and sheds, shops, coaling plants and new rail construction.

Exporting Rubber Products

Canada Is Now Fourth Rubber Manufacturing Country Of World

Canada has now become the fourth rubber manufacturing country of the world, exporting rubber products to the value of $30,000,000 annually, though the raw product comes from countries to which the Dominion is exporting the manufactured commodity, said Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce at the annual banquet of the Canadian Rubber Association in Montreal.

Seeking Trade With Canada

Chance For More Business Being Investigated By Belgium

According to a despatch from Brussels, a Belgian consular agent has been sent to explore the possibilities for increased trade with Canada. Interesting prospects for commerce with Canada were opening up, it was stated. Canada imported from Belgium to the extent of $10,122,879 in the past year and exported to that country to the value of $18,669,001.

SAME SYMPTOMS IN MANY CASES

An Anaemic Condition Easily Recognized — Calls For a Blood Builder

In most cases of anaemia the symptoms are almost the same. The sufferer grows pale and is easily tired after the least exertion. The appetite is fickle and the patient loses in weight. Sometimes there are headaches, and often inability to sleep well. As the blood becomes thinner the symptoms become more pronounced and often there are fainting spells. All this shows that the blood is thin and watery, and at the very first symptom of this condition the patient should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the most reliable blood-builder and nerve tonic known. The sole mission of this medicine is to enrich the blood, and when that is done all the distressing symptoms disappear. Among those who have reason to praise this medicine is Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Shanclin, N.B., who says:—"About four years ago I became very much run down. I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and I grew so nervous that the smallest things would annoy me. Eventually I grew to move about without help. I was just a miserable wreck, and became very much discouraged as I had tried many medicines which failed to help me. In this wretched state a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and before long found they were helping me. Gladly I continued taking the pills until I fully regained my health and strength and I have since continued in the best of health. Later my daughter became anaemic and six boxes of the pills restored her to health, strength and color. Naturally I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a blessing to weak, run-down people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Within a week after thirteen clubmen of London, England, had defied superstition by dining together, four had died and three were seriously ill with pneumonia.

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the sufferer. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation so that, besides being an effective vermifuge, they are tonic and health-giving in their effects.

"I do pray," said Helmi, in her own defence "but not loud, just me and God know. I don't like big row — neither does my God."

After that the matron tried giving Helmi more than her share of work, but that plan was soon abandoned. Work melted before Helmi's clever hands. Then came isolation. Helmi's heart was so hard she could not have her meals with the other girls. Helmi bore this complacently. Anything better than having the whole roomful staring at her.

Helmi had four happy hours each day, four hours that slipped by her on shining wings, when the dining-room table was cleared and lessons were given by Miss de Forest. Always Miss de Forest smiled when she looked at Helmi, and called her "dear." She praised her neat, clear writing, and gave her a beautiful shiny-backed note-book with green lines in it for her own. Miss de Forest did not live at the Home, but came each day in her little car, her coming and going being events in the drab lives of the young prisoners to whom she came as an ambassador from a happier world.

To the Matron, Miss de Forest went one day with something weighing heavily on her mind. Mrs. Wymuth was in her "Retreat," and looked up questioning when the teacher entered.

"Mrs. Wymuth, this system is all wrong," began Miss de Forest, impulsively. "This young Finn girl who has just come in is as sweet and innocent as a rose, but she has to associate with all classes here. Rose Lamb has just come back from a terrible debauch, and she is full of the glory of her adventures—she knows every dive in the city. Lucille's baby is about due. Minnie is in the same condition, and the others are learning fast any wickedness they did not know. Many of these girls are mentally deficient. Certainly this is no place for a bright, lovely young girl like Helmi. I always have thought it poor system, but since Helmi came it seems positively devilish."

Mrs. Wymuth's lips were thin as she replied: "We have nothing to do with the system, Miss de Forest; that has been carefully thought out by the Board. You forget that under the softening influence of Divine grace, the hardest hearts may melt. Rose Lamb has had a wonderful conversion since she was brought back, and is a better girl this moment than Helmi with her proud and stubborn will. Rose is a brand plucked from the burning; Helmi is still a sinner."

Miss de Forest protested stormily. At the end of the month Miss de

Forest was dismissed. The letter from the Board said "it was deemed advisable to make a change."

During the rule of the former matron the hospital room was downstairs, located as far as possible from the dormitory. The Wymuths had other plans. They believed it was well for the girls to know the wages of sin. So on the dreadful night that Lucille spent in hospital, the girls huddled together in agony, listening, listening. Poor Lucille, with her shining brown girls! Every girl but Rose Lamb cried in sympathy, and some in shrinking terror. The new girl who had come in that day came over to Helmi, who held her in her warm young arms all night. Like a stone she was, poor little Esther. Her teeth chattered and her little heart beat wildly like a hunted hare's. Helmi did her best to comfort her.

Rose Lamb alone was calm. She sat up in bed and addressed the girls. "See here, kids," she said, "Lucille was a big fool, and it serves her right. She didn't need . . ."

The girls hushed their sobs and listened fascinated. Helmi covered her ears. Something inherently modest and clean in her young heart protested. She did not want to hear.

The Girls' Friendly Home had been built by Christian people. The men who sat on the Board were convinced that they were doing a noble thing. Faithful women sewed and baked and sold tickets to maintain it. O God! O God! what cruel things are sometimes done in the name of Thy Compassionate Son!

It was over Minnie that Helmi had her first quarrel with Mrs. Wymuth. Minnie's home was in the country, where the crops had failed, and Minnie had come to the city to find work. There had been no harvest to cut, so it seemed best for Minnie to come away. Only sixteen, innocent and trusting. Minnie had come to the great city. She wanted money to get shoes for the little ones at home, and for her mother, too. Minnie's love for her mother was very deep and beautiful. Her mother had been so brave and sweet through all their bad years.

Minnie had worked in the home of a prospector, a man who had found gold in the north—gold running in the sands of a river—and he had traced it back until he found the deposits. He would be the richest man in the world some day. His wife went to the coast for the winter. "He told me," sobbed Minnie, "that he would stake a claim for me, and I would have thousands of dollars, and that I could do what I liked with it. I could pay off the mortgage and give my mother a trip. But only on condition that I wouldn't tell, and so I didn't tell anyone. The other matron, Mrs. Avery, was lovely to me, and told me if the time ever came when I wanted to tell she would stand by me. She explained to me how foolish and wicked I had been, but she knew it was love of my mother and all of them at home. Oh, we would have been all right if she had stayed."

"She helped me to write a letter to my mother, and wrote herself so nice, too. It made me cry. That was just before they told her to go. I have her address—she gave it to all of us. Mrs. Wymuth made me burn my card, but I know it, anyway—she can't take that from me. She reads all the letters we write, and all the letters that come. Mrs. Avery never did that. But Mrs. Wymuth made me tell—she prayed it out of me. One night I got excited and said his name and now even if he finds the gold he'll be mad at me and never give me a cent."

Helmi patted the poor girl's heavy shoulders. "But that's not the worst—I haven't got my mother's letter, and I believe there is one from her. I asked Mrs. Wymuth, and she said I would get it when I was a better girl and stopped crying. I said I couldn't stop, and then she said I was saucy and she would punish me for that; and I said a letter from my mother would do me more good than anything. She said I would get my letter when she saw fit to give it to me and not before. I wish I could die—I hope I will die when my time comes."

"No, no," said Helmi, "don't die, Minnie I'll get your letter if it is there, I'll take it. It is yours, and it is not hers."

"They will kill you—they thrashed Rose Lamb for running away — thrashed her right before us all. It was terrible."

The next night when supper, which was always eaten in silence now, was over, the prayers began. Mr. Wymuth read the scripture, choosing a denunciatory psalm abounding with much malediction and woe. He spoke of Lucille, and drew a moral lesson from her sad story and her terrible suffering. According to Mr. Wymuth motherhood was the punishment which came to those who transgressed the laws of propriety (Miss Lamb dissenting, though not openly). The girls were strongly disposed to follow Miss Lamb's theory that it was not sin, but innocence, that had been Lucille's undoing.

Then came the avalanche of prayers, led most noisily of all by Miss Lamb. Some of the other girls followed, and Mrs. Wymuth as usual closed the meeting. She had a way of tattling on all the girls, telling God everything she had noticed all day that was in any way unpleasant. "And oh, dear, gracious God, we ask Thee to forgive Mary, who came to the table tonight with filthy hands. Teach her that clean hands are pleasing in Thy holy sight. And soften Helmi's hard heart, dear Lord, we pray. Oh, bring down conviction like a rain of fire, so that her poor sin-stained soul may not be eternally lost and cast away to burn forever and ever. Teach Minnie to know that authority must be respected."

Mrs. Wymuth's eyes were devoutly closed as she said back and forward to her own intoning. Her voice whimpered and wailed and rasped like a rusty hinge.

Alberta's Coal Wealth

Greater Than All Known Deposits in the British Empire

Alberta's potential coal wealth is greater than all the known coal deposits in the rest of the British Empire put together, according to Sir Thomas Holland, chairman of the Empire Mining and Metallurgical Council. "If the present endeavors to change coal into a fluid fuel, capable of displacing petroleum and all its products, are successful, Canada will take the place of the United States as the world's provider of liquid fuel," he further stated.

Free Books For Blind

Canada's National Institute For Sightless Distributes Thousands Of Volumes Monthly

Just twenty years ago a library for the unfortunate army of the sightless, who must read with their fingers, was established in Toronto. Now the library department of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind distributes 1,000 bulky volumes a month to blind persons in all parts of Canada and in Newfoundland.

This library is unique in Canada, being the only one with more than merely local distribution. Books supplied cover every range of literature, from geology to poetry. History, biography and scientific works are in great demand, and the librarian believes that the sightless consume a relatively greater quantity of this solid fare than those who read with their eyes.

Canada can claim a highly creditable distinction in that it was the first nation to grant free transportation through the mails to embossed literature. This step was accomplished in 1908 by Sir William Mulock, now Chief Justice of Ontario.

Its vast importance can only be comprehended when the weight and bulk of an embossed book is considered. It requires thirty-nine Braille volumes to accommodate the Bible. An ordinary Bible can be purchased for 25 cents; the price of the Braille Bible is $22. Gibbons' "Decline and Fall" requires nearly twelve feet of shelf space and is so popular it is never on the shelves. There is no library fee for the blind reader, and no matter where he lives in the Dominion, the books he wants are sent free of charge.

Insist On Silent Cars

English Police Ordered To Punish Motorists Making Unnecessary Noise

Active warfare against drivers of motor cars throughout the country who make more noise than is necessary in the driving of their cars has been instituted by the police under explicit orders from the home office.

A little over a year ago the home secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, issued a warning against motor drivers who failed to use silencers in connection with the running of their cars, and since then nearly 6,000 prosecutions have been made in the metropolitan police district alone. The improvement resulting therefrom, however, is deemed insufficient by the home office and now the warfare is to be prosecuted with still greater vigor, not only in the metropolitan district, but in the country generally.

We shall sail securely and safely reach The Fortunate Isles.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The desire to do right, the will to do right are not of ourselves, but of the Lord. He stands ready to give all these in their fulness to all who will receive them.—Theodore Pursons.

Brains and Intelligence

Quality That Counts and Small Brain No Handicap

There is no evidence that the size of the brain has anything to do with intelligence. Men are larger than women, therefore they have larger but not necessarily better brains. Turgeneff, the Russian novelist, had an exceptionally large brain, only exceeded by two others; one of the others was an imbecile. Next in weight came a laborer and a bricklayer. The largest woman's brain recorded weighed 1,742 grams; she was insane, and died of consumption. A small brain is no more of a handicap than a small foot. It is quality that counts.

Farm Prosperity

Increasing Sale Of Agricultural Implements Reported In West This Year

An unfailing indication of farm prosperity is the increasing sale of implements reported by nearly all dealers in the west this year. The demand for haying machinery has been especially heavy, while the sale of threshers, binders, combines and tractors has been exceptionally large, some firms reporting from 100 to 200 per cent. increases in the sales of these implements.

THIS GREAT TONIC RENEWS STRENGTH

Simply Because It Enriches and Builds Up the Blood

In no trouble is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia, which means poverty of the blood. It is very common in young girls and in persons who are overworked or confined within doors. It makes its approach in so stealthy a manner that it is often well developed before its presence is recognized. But taken in time there is a tonic that so enriches and purifies the blood that good health and strength soon comes to the former weak, anaemic sufferer. This tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which for years have been the most successful blood builder known, and have credit for restoring to good health thousands and thousands of people who have suffered from some of the many ailments that come through weak, watery blood.

The correction of anaemic conditions by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as anything can be. As proof of this Miss Margaret A. Smith, Burgoyne, Ont., says:—"After having a severe attack of jaundice I was left in a very weak and run-down condition. I was pale and my nerves on edge. I could not sleep at night and would toss and turn for hours at a time. I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and soon began to feel better, and after taking a few more boxes of the pills I felt as strong as ever, and could thoroughly enjoy my rest at night. Now, I always recommend these pills to any friends who may be ailing."

Better sleep, steady nerves, improved appetite, increased vigor—all these can be yours by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Begin them today. Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Judge—"Madam, have you anything to say?"

Prisoner's Husband (excitedly) — "Now you've done it."

A great man is seldom taken at his true value but lots of others will sell out for more than they are worth.

Does Weakness Detract From Your Good Looks?

Mrs. Thomas Chapman of 3 Somerset Place, Toronto, Ont., whose picture appears here, said: "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was very helpful to me and I know it to be the very best medicine a woman can take when nervous and run-down. I had a break-down—my nerves were so upset I could not sleep. I also suffered from nervous indigestion, but after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I did not suffer with indigestion and I could get a natural night's rest, which I could not do before. No woman can appreciate what a wonderful medicine the 'Favorite Prescription' is until she gives it a trial."

AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Mrs. Dayman Gives Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the Credit

Colborne, Ontario.—"When I was first married I was very thin and weak. The doctor said I was weak and would never be able to have a child, but I did, and from the time my baby came I suffered all the time and doctored and took medicine. Life became a burden, and doctors said an operation could help me, but my husband was opposed to that. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine advertised, so I told my husband that I thought I would try it, that I might get some relief. I had not taken one bottle when I could feel it helping me. I took five bottles and had better health. Now I have three girls and a boy and have done my work up to confinement. I am now at the Change of Life and owe my good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I take a bottle when I think I need it."

THE ONTARIO MARKET

On Friday of last week an order-in-council was passed whereby Alberta coal will move to Ontario at the rate of $6.75 per ton. This rate is to be in effect for a period of three months each year, for three years, and this time will no doubt be in the summer time when cars are available in which to haul the coal. And much credit for this order-in-council must be given to our own member, Mr. E. J. Garland, who has kept the coal question before the house ever since the session began, and who brought up the subject at every available opportunity. And at last his victory has been won. An Exchange has this to say about him: "...one chap who has made a permanent home for himself in the Red Deer Valley is that brilliant Irishman, E. J. Garland, who has fought in season and out of season for the Ontario market for Alberta coal."

Whether or not the Ontario market will help Carbon, depends largely on our local mine operators and their alertness to go after the coal buyers in the East in hopes of obtaining contracts for coal so that when the three months' period begins they will have a ready market and will be able to commence shipments immediately and thus take advantage of the short time allowed for trial shipments.

SPRING

Yesterday was the 21st day of March and according to the Calendar it is spring. The water in the creek began to flow last Friday and before night a rushing stream filled the creek bed. The streets are one muddy mass, and the side hills about us are bare of snow, while on the higher levels very little snow is to be found except where drifted. That glorious season of the year is at hand and it is the sign of the end of the long winter and the beginning of the warm sunny days that we hope are about to follow. It will not be long before the birds will be everywhere and the grass will be green and once again the Vancouver.—"Maizie," the famous white Leghorn hen owned by the University of British Columbia farm, officially known as Hen No. 6, the world's champion layer with 351 eggs in a year, is proving a substantial revenue producer for the University of British Columbia. Last year the sale of pedigreed poultry stock from Maizie returned to the University $2,225. Two of her cockerel fetched $500 each when sold to Ohio poultry raisers, while another cockerel sold in New Jersey for $300. The University receipts on sale of pedigreed British Columbia stock totaled $7,225 for the year.

followers of that "Royal and Ancient game" will be seen carrying their golf clubs about the local links, taking in the pure fresh air and letting out the bad.

Browning once penned the following concerning this time of the year:

"The year's at the spring,
And the days at the morn;
Morning's at seven;
The hillside's dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing;
The snail's on the thorn;
God's in his heaven—

Teacher: Do you know what becomes of boys who use bad language when they are playing marbles?

Willie: Yes, Miss. They grow up and play golf.

"The heel you say."—From a hosiery advertisement in a New York paper.

A Scotchman went to town for a holiday and a friend met him down the street with a pair of trousers over his arm. "Where are you going, Sandy?" He replied:

"Oh, A'h'm looking for the 'Aberdeen Free Press.'"

A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in his paper, wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was just looking over the columns of the paper to see what merchants were not advertising so that it could spin its web across his store door and be free from disturbance.

A friend asks us to multiply $5 by $5. We do so and announce the result as $25. Now multiply 500 cents, by 500 cents and give the answer in cents, pure and simple, not as fractional parts of a dollar. We do and are surprised to see the figures climb up to 250,000 cents, which is $2,500. As $5 and 500 are equivalent the result is puzzling. It cannot be urged that decimal marks should be used. A cent, as such is as distinct a unit as a dollar and as the result is to be expressed in cents the decimal cannot be placed in extenuation of the rather surprising result. But there is clearly something wrong. Can any reader explain it?

Port Arthur.—Eventually Canada will produce a 1,000,000,000 bushel crop of wheat and will have no difficulty in finding a market for it, predicted Hon. T. A. Crerar, President and General Manager of the United Grain Growers Limited, and formerly Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion. Referring to the development of Western Canada, Mr. Crerar said there was no country in the world where so great a development had taken place in the past few years and there was no country having such great possibilities.

Toronto.—In accordance with his promise to Western Ontario tobacco growers, Hon. W. R. Motherwell has appointed a commission to investigate all phases of the tobacco-growing industry, for which two of the commissioners have already been named. The probe will extend to every phase of the industry, from seeding to marketing, and one of the most important features will be the effort to ascertain the best method of operating a proposed co-operative marketing pool.

Hesketh Notes

Between thirty and forty invited guests attended a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Barber, on Thursday evening last. The evening was devoted to cards, the following being the prize winners: Ladies' 1st, Mrs. R. Barber; consolation, Mrs. Lilja. Gentlemen's 1st R. R. Thorburn; consolation, Mr. Lilja.

The usual weekly whist drive and dance was held in the Community hall, Hesketh, on Friday evening March 16, and a large crowd gathered for the occasion. The prize winners for cards were: Ladies 1st Mrs. Gattine; consolation Mrs. T. Heath. Gents 1st, L. Hoy; consolation, Sam Lewis. A dainty luncheon was served at midnight and dancing filled the remaining part of the evening's entertainment.

There will be a masquerade dance in the Community hall on Friday evening, March 30, and a good time is promised those present. An orchestra has been engaged for the evening and suitable prizes are being offered for costumes.

In order to meet the increasing popularity of the Canadian Rockies among tourists, and also to aid in developing trans-continental travel, the Canadian Pacific Railway will run a quintette of trains across the Dominion from Montreal, Toronto and Chicago to the Rockies, Vancouver and Victoria this coming summer. These trains will be "The Trans-Canada Limited", "The Imperial", the Toronto-Vancouver Express, and "The Mountaineer" and "Soo-Pacific Express" from Chicago. The Trans-Canada and the Mountaineer will be all-sleeping-car trains.

Boring young man (holding forth to pretty girl) "You know, I'm funny like that—I always throw myself into anything I undertake." Pretty girl (sweetly): "How splendid! Why don't you dig a well?"

Young Housewife: Are you sure this cleaner will really take out the dirt?

Dealer: Will it? Say, lady, yesterday I rubbed some of it on a copy of 'Scandalous Stories' and when I got through I had the 'Sunday School Gazette.'

A gentleman was walking down the street with a little boy at his side, when the boy cried out: "There goes an editor!" "Hush, hush," said the father, "Don't make sport of the poor man. God only knows what you may come to yourself some day."

An old man, with his liveried chauffeur, was bowling along in his $5,000 car down the highway at 55 miles an hour. Suddenly another car whizzed past. The old man asked his chauffeur what kind of a car it was.

"One of those new Fords," was the reply.

Well, James, the man said, speed up and pass him. We can't be humiliated by a Ford.

The chauffeur speeded up, but it was all the big car could do to come abreast of the Ford. It could not muster the speed necessary to pass. The driver of the Ford leaned out:

"Say, mister, do you know anything about this new car?"

"Why, something. What's the matter?"

"Well, tell me how to get this darned thing out of second."

Invited to see Montreal by the hotels and the tourist and convention bureau of the city, 75 members of the Massachusetts Hotel Men's Association spent a week-end recently there and were given a royal reception. As their president, Emil Coulon, said, "We came to sell New England to Montreal, but you have sold Montreal and Quebec province to us."

During the usually quiet immigration months of December and January the Canadian Colonization Association colonized 75 families who took up land to the extent of 22,734 acres. In 1927 the Canadian Pacific Railway, through its land department and its subsidiary (the C. C. A.) placed 2,694 families on Canadian farms, this including 626 families averaging 5 persons to the credit of the Association and 1,529 families on C. P. R. lands.

The movement of British youth to Canada promises to be considerably heavier than usual, due to new arrangements made with the British Government. Ontario is taking 500 boys, Manitoba 50 and the Maritime Provinces and Saskatchewan an indeterminate number, while some hundreds are to be moved by private organizations. In all it is estimated some 2,000 boys will probably be brought out under the new scheme this summer.

Another body of sportsmen are finding Montreal and Eastern Canada good places in winter as well as summer. The Appalachian Mountain Club, of Boston, picked the best period of the winter season to spend a week in the Laurentians mainly devoted to skiing, but with sleighing, dog-mushing and tobogganing thrown in. It was the first time they had ever visited this district in winter and they are going to repeat it.

Resignation of Colonel Walter Maughan as Canadian Pacific Steamship Passenger Traffic Manager has been followed by the appointment of William Baird, who was assistant European Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway in London, Eng. Mr. Baird, whose appointment is effective March 1, joined the Allan Line steamship company at Glasgow as junior clerk in 1905 and came into C. P. service when that company took over the Allan Line in 1916.

Bee keeping in Saskatchewan made marked progress in 1927, there being an increase of 45 per cent in the number of colonies over those of 1926 and an increase of 191 per cent in the 1927 honey crop over that of the previous year. The number of spring colonies in 1927 was 3,803 which increased to 5,962 by the fall count. The production of comb honey for the year was 64,042 pounds and of extracted honey 436,932 pounds, making an average production per colony of 148½ pounds.

Airplanes are now being used to herd vast numbers of reindeer in the big Arctic stock farms, according to Ralph Lomen, pioneer of the reindeer industry of Alaska. "It's a new idea and it's not being practiced regularly, but herding by airplanes seem feasible," said Mr. Lomen. "Our head herdsman went out recently and in two hours accomplished as much as would otherwise have required a week with six men. There is room for 12,000,000 reindeer in the northern tundra of Canada and such a herd would be worth $50,000,000. It could be done in 50 years if Canada started now in a modest way."

General Outlook Is Encouraging

The latest preliminary estimate of the yields of the principal grain crops, issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics, based upon reports from all parts of the Dominion, predicts a wheat crop of 458,741,000 for this year, the second largest crop ever grown in Canada. The record crop was in 1923, which totalled 474,199,000 bushels. This year's wheat crop is estimated at 48,930,000 bushels more than last year's yield and promises an average yield per acre of 20.4 bushels per acre.

The three great grain growing provinces of Canada, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, will produce 432,223,000 bushels of this year's total crop of wheat as compared with 383,440,000 bushels in 1926.

There has been considerable damage from rust this year in various sections of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and when final threshing returns are in, the government's estimate may be considerably lowered. The Manitoba Free Press estimates the wheat crop of the three prairie provinces for the year 1927 at 424,312,125, which is some eight million bushels less than the government estimate. This paper's estimate of the Oat crop of the three prairie provinces is also considerably lower than that of the government and in the final analysis may prove to be more nearly correct, as with the exception of Alberta and the western part of Saskatchewan, the oat crop has been rather disappointing. Rust and frost has caused a lot of damage. However, there can be no question but that this year's crop throughout the west will be well above the average.

A new high record of wheat production has been established in Alberta this season with a crop now estimated at 168,862,000 bushels, an increase of 24,028,000 bushels over the previous bumper crop grown in 1923. But not only wheat promises a bumper yield this year; oats, barley, rye and other grains as well as the whole range of field and orchard crops promise record returns. The 1927 crop of 16,524,000 tons of hay and clover from 10,187,836 acres is the largest yield ever recorded in Canada.

The yield of oats has also been good with an estimated production of 502,199,000 bushels, of which 332,494,000 bushels were produced in the Prairie Provinces. Particularly good crops are being harvested in both Saskatchewan and Alberta and the estimate for the Prairie Provinces is the second largest shown. In 1923 it was estimated that 391,756,000 bushels were harvested in Western Canada. The 1927 production of barley is expected to be 98,000,000 bushels, and rye 17,462,000 bushels.

Though good weather is still required for the completion of threshing operations, these have now advanced so far that over a considerable area threshing is finished. There is naturally a feeling of optimism among Canadian farmers and business men. Not for years has the general outlook been so encouraging in Canada as it is at present.

Japanese Royalty Engaged

Heir To Japanese Throne Is Betrothed To Daughter Of Prince

Prince Chichibu, 25, brother of the Japanese Emperor, and next in line to the throne, is reported betrothed to Mahiko Ichijo, 17-year-old daughter of Prince Ichijo, says a Tokyo despatch to the Evening News.

Prince Ichijo is chief ritualist of the Imperial Court and a member of the ancient Kioto nobility.

The despatch says that an early engagement of the Prince is urged by court dignitaries and the lack of a son in the emperor's family (a second daughter was recently born) is felt to make the early marriage of Prince Chichibu desirable.

The first step is often so expensive that you can't afford to take the second.

Some Highways Over-Signed

Directions Necessary Only Where Road Is Doubtful Or Dangerous

"Signing the highways" has long been a topic for departmental consideration. Some have done little, others a good job, and some have "over-signed" their highways.

We read in newspapers of patients who take an overdose of doctor's medicine and die. The motorists in some localities are in the same position—overdoses of "signs" cause near death to many good trips, and travelling is "hard work."

Whoever is in charge of signs in your highway department should study the situation carefully, and erect signs at every place where the motorist can go wrong or is in danger. No other directions are necessary. One sign correctly placed is better than ten signs placed "hit or miss."

FOR MOTHERS OF YOUNG CHILDREN

Mothers are quick to praise anything which brings health and comfort to their little ones—any medicine that will make the baby well and keep him well will always receive hearty recommendation from the mother. That is why Baby's Own Tablets are so popular. Thousands of mothers, throughout the country, not only use them for their own little ones but are always delighted to be able to recommend them to other mothers. Thousands of mothers have proved Baby's Own Tablets to be without an equal in relieving their little ones of any of the many minor ailments which arise out of a derangement of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal laxative—easy to take but thorough in action. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHAPTER XX.—Continued

"Do you think I would marry you to a decent boy—a boy of good family—who was foolish enough to think of marrying a foreigner of whom he knew nothing, and of whom the police knew considerable? Look!"

Helmi leaned over and scanned the paper. Her own picture stared at her. For a moment she forgot everything but the pleasant memories it brought to mind of Miss Abbie's house and its kindly shelter. The picture was taken in front of the house; she had worn her white middie and pleated skirt. She remembered now that Mrs. Wymuth had asked for a photo—it was one of the rules of the Home.

"Helmi Milander, young Finnish girl who escaped from the Girls' Friendly Home. Arrested here a year ago in the worst Chinese den in the

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

city." Helmi reeled, and would have fallen had not Major Gowsett sprang to her assistance and placed her in a chair.

"Do you deny this?" asked the Magistrate, when he thought she was sufficiently recovered to speak.

"No," said Helmi faintly; "that's my picture, but it's all a lie."

"Of course, they all say that."

"Well, at least you can understand that I was not anxious to marry you to young Doran or any decent man. You have a record, you see, and every magistrate in Canada has a copy of this."

"Did Jack see this?" Helmi asked after a pause.

"Yes, I showed it to him while you sat outside," said the magistrate, "but he told me to go on. Like every other young fellow he wanted his own way. But now I advise you not to try to make trouble. You have no claim on him—remember that—and he's gone away, I hear, for good. You'd better go straight back to this Home that you ran away from. No doubt they will help you through again. I understand many of the girls come back two and three times. In fact," he said turning to his friend, "that is one great objection to these Rescue Homes—they make things far too easy for girls of this class."

Helmi was staring past them vacantly. The pallor of her face was deepening.

"Now, look here," said the magistrate, sharply, "no tricks, no faints. You're an old hand at this, although you are not old in years, and you can't make me believe you are an innocent young thing, who has been deeply wronged. You're well able to look after yourself."

Helmi rose uncertainly. She reached out her hand for the certificate she had given him.

"This is no good," he said, "you may as well leave it here."

"Give it to me," cried Helmi, with some of her old fury, snatching it from his hand.

"Take it then, you tiger," he said angrily. "It's no good to you. Take it and get out of here! I am not running a Girls' Friendly Home here."

Helmi opened her purse to replace the paper, and as she did so a card dropped out. She stooped and picked it up. It was a white card bordered with maple leaves, and in the centre were printed these words: "Welcome to Canada!"

The sight of the card brought Helmi back to the night she had got it. It was her place-card the night the girls gave her the party. They were good to her and would be sorry for all this trouble which had come to her. This man who had caused her so much harm would suffer for it. Canada was all right. God was all right. This man was a devil. In a moment all her faintness was gone, succeeded by burning rage.

The two men watched her uneasily. There was something terrible in her anger. She walked over to the table and stood in front of Col. Blackwood. "You are a bad man," she said, "a devil—an old dirty, drunken devil. I hate you, and I will kill you. If my man does not come back to me I will kill you." Her voice was low, but it filled all the room. "It will be your fault, and I will come back here and kill you."

Before either of the men could recover from the shock she was gone.

When Helmi drove into the yard at the Boarding House old Sim, who had been watching for her, came to take her horse. Mrs. McMann came out, too, and the timekeeper, and the mine boss. They had been talking it over.

Helmi stepped out of the buggy and stood leaning against the wheel. Her face was white and lined, and her big eyes were feverish.

"Well, Helmi, what about it?" said Mrs. McMann, who could bear the suspense no longer. "What about it?"

"It is not in the book," said Helmi, wearily. "He says we are not married at all. He says Jack was fooling me. He is an old devil, that magistrate."

"Tough luck, Helmi," said the mine boss, "But we all know it wasn't your fault. He fooled you—that's all."

Mrs. McMann found her tongue—never a hard task for her. "Well, one thing sure, Helmi, you can't say I didn't warn you. I knew it means no good to a girl when one of these city dudes starts to go with her. They mean no good to any girl. I tell you, a girl has to watch her step all the time. I can't keep you here. I'd keep you on if I could, but there's so much talk of this, that and the other; and I've always tried to run a decent house, but with so many comers and goers, and now that Mr. McMann has gone I've got to be more careful. I guess you'd better go into the city. There's so many people there no one asks questions."

Mrs. McMann went on talking.

Helmi stood up and faced the sunset and her eyes were looking far away. She did not hear what Mrs. McMann was saying. She was thinking of that sunset long ago—the night before she crossed the Canadian border—how it glowed and gleamed and beckoned. She had been so sure it was a welcoming fire to warm and comfort her. She had come in full of hope and confidence—so sure she was of making her way, and finding friends. But these fires, these friendly fires, where were they now?

Her friend whom she loved had betrayed her into hostile hands. And now her Jack! Was Aunt Lili right after all? Was Jack a painted fire, too . . . and God, her God, who had seemed so close and dear and loving to her, was he just a painted fire, like the other, cold, and dead, and mocking, when she came to him crying and shivering, bitterly alone, and afraid.

The last glow of color faded in the sky and the night wind came whistling, cold and piercing, down the mountain pass.

Helmi was aroused by the collie dog licking her hand.

CHAPTER XXI.

Dead gardens, littered with stocks from which the life had fled and the bright blooms had departed, with all the sadness of the silent places where throbbing life had been, hummocked over the newly earthed graves where the potatoes and turnips now lie buried; dead fields cleared out, swept clean and tidied away like the house of trouble where the neighbors gather and do this sad service for the one who is gone; leaden stubble whose golden hue was faded now to match the lowering sky; leafless trees that draw together moaning and complaining like toothless old women whose children have all forgotten them; no birds at all except the little graybirds who sing no song and whose coats are the color of dust; the rose-haws gone, driven out by the scouring winds of December that foam with rage at any spot of brightness; weary winds that rage all day and moan at night as if they had repented of their evil ways, but whose sorrow is only for the works of destruction which they were not able to accomplish. The harvest past, the summer gone, stark melancholy over all. So came that cold, gray, desolate time which we refer to as the "Turn of the Year."

There was only one hope for the sad old world, so gray and unlovely and lifeless—hope that the decent snow would come with its soft winding sheet to cover the unsightliness of the dead face. Surely there would be snow for Christmas. "A green Christmas makes a full churchyard" the old people said grimly, but no one could truthfully call this a green one, it was only gray and leaden.

FIGHTING FOR BABY'S HEALTH

Is the Constant Care Of Every Young Mother

The young mother has a constant care in looking after the welfare of her little ones. Childhood ailments come on so sudden—sometimes without a minute's warning—the mother may have a very sick baby on her hands before help can be obtained. That is unless she has a remedy in the house which she can safely give the baby for any of the many minor ailments of babyhood and childhood.

Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers throughout the country always keep a box of the Tablets on hand and they proclaim them to be without an equal for sweetening baby's stomach; regulating his bowels, and thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making the dreaded teething period easy.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any other narcotic drug which are so harmful to the future welfare of the baby. Mothers, if you value the life of your little ones give him Baby's Own Tablets when he is ill, or, better still, give him an occasional dose of the Tablets to ward off illness. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or will be sent to any address, post paid, at 25 cents a box by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rubber From Flowers

Asters are three per cent. rubber, and there is enough fire material in dandelions and golden rods to provide an emergency supply should the occasion arise. This according to an announcement from the laboratories of America's inventive wizard, Thomas Edison.

Cause Of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

Winnipeg Live Stock Shipments

During January 1296 car loads of live stock were handled at the Union stock yards, St. Boniface (Greater Winnipeg). The shipments comprised 20,462 head of cattle, 47,277 hogs, 17,448 sheep and 1,420 horses.

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Remover, which is entirely safe to use, and certain satisfactory in its action.

Little Helps For This Week

"Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation."—Psalm lxxviii, 19.

When all Thy mercies, O my God,
My rising soul surveys,
Transported with the view, I'm lost
In wonder, love, and praise.

Ten thousand thousand precious gifts
My daily thanks employ;
Nor is the least a cheerful heart,
That tastes those gifts with joy.
—Joseph Addison.

If gratitude is due from man to man, how much more from man to his Maker? The Supreme Being does not only confer upon us those bounties which proceed more immediately from His hand, but even those benefits which are conveyed to us by others. Every blessing we enjoy, by what means soever it may be derived upon us, is the gift of Him who is the great Author of good and Father of mercies.—Ibid.

PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Two More Cases of Feminine Illness Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Barrington, N. S.—"I had terrible feelings, headaches, back and side aches and pains all over my body. I would have to go to bed every month and nothing would do me good. My husband and my father did my work for me as I have two children and we have quite a big place. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then got a little book about it through the mail, and my husband sent to Eaton's and got me a bottle, and then we got more from the store. I am feeling fine now and do all my work and am able to go out around more. I tell my friends it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that makes me feel so well."—Mrs. VICTOR RICHARDSON, Barrington, Nova Scotia.

Dull Pains in Back

St. Thomas, Ont.—"I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found great relief from the dull, heavy pains in the small of my back and the weakness from which I suffered for five years after my boy was born. After taking the Vegetable Compound and using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I am feeling better than I have for the past seven years, and advise my friends to take it."—Mrs. F.
